Wayland Reads
Breakfast With Buddha

We've launched our first community wide reading program for this spring. Let's find out what happens when we all read the same book and then get together to talk about it! We have selected Breakfast with Buddha by Roland Merullo as our first common reading book. When his sister tricks him into taking her guru, a crimson-robed monk, on a road trip to their childhood home, Otto Ringling, a confirmed skeptic, is not amused. Six days on the road with an enigmatic holy man who answers every question with a riddle is not what he'd planned. But in an effort to westernize his passenger—and amuse himself—he decides to show the monk some "American fun" along the way.

Come to the library to pick up a "Wayland Reads" button and a program brochure with event listings. For the most up-to-date information—including a list of local businesses offering program discounts, go to www.waylandlibrary.org and click on the "Wayland Reads" logo.

WAYLAND READS

Famous Trials with Gary Hylander

The Council on Aging and the library are co-sponsoring a series presented by history professor Gary Hylander of Stonehill College. Dr. Hylander is well known for his lively and informative presentations. Our subject is "Famous Trials," each one dedicated to a sensational 20th century trial. The first lecture in our series, on Sacco & Vanzetti, was a big success. Unfortunately, Dr. Hylander has some professional conflicts that require us to reschedule the other three lectures to new dates. The next lecture will be on Thursday, Feb. 19, at 7:30pm (Lindbergh kidnapping) at the Senior Center. The final two program will be at the library on Wed., Feb. 25 at 7:30pm (Rosenberg Espionage) and Fri., Mar. 6, at 4pm (Scopes "monkey" trial). Funded by our Lifelong Learning grant.

Frank Smith & the Trojan War

Classicist Frank Smith will return to the library with a series of programs entitled "Legends of the Trojan War in Literature and in Art." The first program will be on Monday, February 23, at 1 p.m., and the series will continue on all the Mondays in March.

ESOL Tutors Needed

The Library is looking for volunteers willing to tutor students two hours a week in its English for Speakers of Other Languages program. We always have a waiting list of learners who need our help. No teaching experience or foreign language ability is required. Training classes for new tutors are scheduled for five Thursday evenings starting on February 26. Volunteers will work one-on-one with adults who want to improve their abilities to speak and write English. For more information, call Ginny Steel at 508-358-7517.

Foyer Exhibit

Alice Shafer will exhibit mixed media paintings in the Foyer during February. Shafer describes her work as eclectic: "I am especially interested in capturing candid moments, the beauty of natural light on the landscape, the interactions of people with their animals and the joy of children exploring their environments."

Books are the quietest and most constant of friends; they are the most accessible and wisest of counselors and the most patient of teachers. –Charles Elliott

February Foreign Film

We will screen "Italianetz" (The Italian) as our next film on Thursday, February 12, at 7 p.m. For most Russian orphans, the chance to be adopted is a dream come true. But six-year-old Vanya has other hopes. After discovering his mother is still alive, the abandoned boy teaches himself to read to learn her address from his personal files and sets off on a perilous journey to find his only remaining family. Inspired by true events.

Beginning Beading Workshop for Adults

Expert "beader" Norma Radoff will present a workshop for beginners on Saturday, February 21 from 1-4 p.m. in the Raytheon Room. Each participant will leave with one finished piece of jewelry, either a necklace or a bracelet. All materials will be provided, but if you have your own beads, do feel free to bring them. We will be working with semi-precious stones. Because this is a hands-on class, there is a maximum of ten participants and it is limited to ADULTS only. Call 508-358-2311 to register. Funded by our Lifelong Learning grant.

GREAT DECISIONS

TOPIC: Afghanistan/Pakistan

What impact will this renewed interest have on the two states as well as on U.S. defense strategy? Join the discussion on Friday, April 17 at 9:15 a.m. in the Raytheon Room.

April Foreign Film

On Wednesday, April 15 at 7:00 p.m., we will be screening The Lives of Others. The movie explores the frightening and sometimes unintentionally comic system of observation in the former East Germany. In the early 1980s, a successful dramatist and his longtime companion, a popular actress, are intellectual stars in the socialist state, though they secretly don't always think along party lines. One day, the Minister of Culture becomes interested in the actress, so a secret service agent named Wiesler is instructed to observe and eavesdrop on the couple. As he becomes immersed in their lives, their world gradually begins to fascinate him.

Titian with Judy Schurgin

The Venetian Renaissance artist, Tiziano Vecellio, known as Titian (1487-1576), is considered to be one of the most important artists of the sixteenth century. His long and fruitful career began in Venice while apprenticing in the workshop of Giovanni and Gentile Bellini. Eventually, he was successful in Venice and throughout Europe. His use of color and oil glazes, along with his more complex and looser technique of his later career, influenced generations of artists, including Rembrandt, Rubens and the French Impressionists. After the lecture, see the exhibit at the MFA exhibit, Titian, Tintoretto, Veronese:Rivals in Renaissance Venice. This program will be on Thursday, April 16 from 1:00-2:30 p.m. in the Raytheon Room.

GOOD SMALL MOVIES

No car chases, no explosions, no giant bugs from outer space—just the comedy and drama of people dealing with life and each other. Independent, Hollywood, or foreign, some of them are feel-good; all of them are feel-real.

June Foyer Exhibit

Watercolorist Marilyn King will exhibit her work in the library foyer during June. Marilyn writes that she was born into an artistic family. Her mother made a living doing fashion illustrations for the Boston Globe. When Marilyn took up watercolors 17 years ago, she felt she had found the most satisfying way to express herself creatively.

We have a new pass that will admit users to 36 different properties owned by the Historic New England, formerly the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities (SPNEA). The 36 house museums and landscapes span four centuries of architectural styles and five New England states, many in the Boston area. Visitors experience, in a real and personal way, the lives and stories of the individuals and families who made New England what it is today. Offerings at the historic properties include house and landscape tours, adult and family programs, and special events. The pass admits two adults and a passel of youngsters under 18.

Andrew Child Photography

The photography in the Raytheon Room this summer is an exhibit entitled "Invisible Light Around Us" by Andrew Child. Visible light (the colors of the rainbow) represents a fraction of the spectrum generated by the sun. Wavelengths of light longer than the deepest reds we can see are the beginning of the infrared spectrum and are the subject of this exhibition. The photos exploit a defect in digital cameras that creates infrared photographs that have the colors we associate with the everyday world mapped onto the tonal range of infrared light. The result is a unique series of photographs that are hauntingly surreal, dreamlike, and carry a sense of other place and other time while still being intimately familiar. There will be an artist's reception on Thursday, July 23 from 6:30-8:00 p.m. in the Raytheon Room.

Foyer Exhibit

The artwork hanging in the library foyer during July was created between 1910 and 1950 by Paul W. Fuerstenberg, the grandfather of Wayland resident Christine Ridout. Fuerstenberg was an accomplished oil painter, and he also supplemented his income by doing commercial art, for which he was handsomely paid. The work in this exhibit was all done for commercial purposes. The pieces bring us back to a time when magazine and newspaper advertisements were done with drawings, not photographs or computer generated art.

Trustee's Meeting

There will be a trustee's meeting on Wednesday, July 22 from 9:00 am. to 12:00 p.m. in the Raytheon Room

Lyme Disease—"Under Our Skin"

The award-winning documentary, Under Our Skin, will be shown at the library on Saturday, September 12, at 10:30 a.m. A gripping tale of microbes, medicine and money, the film investigates the untold story of Lyme disease, an emerging epidemic larger than AIDS. Each year thousands of patients go undiagnosed, are misdiagnosed, or are often told that their symptoms are "all in YOUR head." Following the stories of patients and physicians fighting the disease, the film brings into focus a haunting picture of the health care system and a medical establishment sometimes willing to put profits ahead of patients. The screening will be followed by a question and answer period with Wayland resident Connie Bean, author of Beating Lyme.

Sean Murphy on Pension Abuse

Tuesday, September 15, at 7:00 p.m.

Since last February, Boston Globe reporter Sean P. Murphy has had many stories about shocking abuses of the public pension system. Mr. Murphy, a 22-year veteran of the Globe, explains that while the vast majority of public pensions are well deserved, some officials have shamelessly scammed the system to enrich themselves. Murphy will walk us through the sleuthing involved in breaking these stories – including the sometime angry and sometimes bizarre encounters he experiences reporting on people who want nothing to do with him. His narrative will hop-scotch from moments of tension to humor to poignancy to hope. He describes the Beacon Hill culture, explains how some elected officials have taken advantage of the system, and discusses Governor Patrick's call for reform and the Legislature's response.

Circulation is UP!

The number of library items that are checked out from our library has increased about 18% in the past two years, about 9% up each of the last two fiscal years. It is a well-known fact that in difficult economic times, people rely on libraries more than ever for access to free information and entertainment. Our trends mimic what is being seen nationally and locally at other Boston-area community libraries. It all points to what an important resource our public libraries are in the 21st century.

Bostonians
Works by Cynthia Lincoln in the Raytheon Room for August

A collection of mixed media screen prints depicting citizens of Boston, the North Shore and Cape Cod and their surroundings.

Foyer Exhibit

Peter Dilanni specializes in oil painting with influences as varied as Picasso, Dali, Van Gogh, Thomas Hart Benton, Vermeer and W.O'K, his artwork is hard to categorize. His most recent paintings tend to be vividly colored and packed with forms and people, often conveying mysterious, exciting and bizarre themes.

Foreign Film Series
THE DOUBLE LIFE OF VERONIQUE

Weronika is a Polish choir soprano, and her double, Véronique, is a French music teacher. Though they are unknown to each other, the two women share an enigmatic, purely emotional bond. The two were born on the same day and each senses that somewhere there exists another person with whom their lives are intertwined. Could it be that each of us is matched somewhere in the world, by our exact double - someone who shares our thoughts and dreams?

Registration is now open for our Beginning Book Making workshop with artist Sue Bleiweiss that will be held on Saturday, September 19 at 1 p.m. Sue will teach participants how to make a basic book using a long stitch binding technique. This will create a beautiful hardcover book filled with blank pages that can be used for journaling, writing, or drawing. Space is limited and preference will be given to Wayland residents. Go to the events calendar at waylandlibrary.org to register for the workshop and to find out more about Sue.

BY POPULAR DEMAND– EVENING BOOK GROUP!

In response to our recent patron survey, the library will be sponsoring an evening book group, starting in October. The focus will be on current literary fiction, with the odd classic or genre work thrown in. Meetings will be roughly every four weeks on Wednesdays at 7:30 (though the first two meetings will be on Mondays due to Raytheon Room scheduling commitments). Reference Librarian Andy Moore has selected the books and will lead the first discussion, with the hope that a different participant will moderate each following month. No registration required, nor is it necessary to attend every meeting; just come when you want. All the books are available through the Minuteman Library Network or can be purchased in paperback. First up is Last Night at the Lobster by Stewart O'Nan, to be discussed on Monday, October 5 at 7:30. See the library website for the other titles and dates.

IN MEMORIAM PERRY HAGENSTEIN

This month, as a tribute to longtime and beloved Trustee Perry Hagenstein, the Library will mount a display of books from his collection, as well as volumes from the Library that reflect his wide-ranging intellect. Although forestry and land use were Perry's main interests, he was also a member of the Wayland Historical Society and the First Parish Church, as well as a staunch advocate for the Library. He enjoyed literary fiction and thoughtful memoirs, especially those that reflected his own Midwestern boyhood. Among the books on display will be two that the Library purchased in his memory: From Slavery to Freedom by John Hope Franklin and Trees and Forests of America by Tim Palmer.

He was a daily visitor here, and eight months after his passing, it's still hard to believe that one can't glance up at almost any given moment and find him looking over the newspapers or browsing the stacks, his tall frame slightly stooped, his silver hair slightly mussed, a twinkle always in his eye. Chatting and joking with whomever he bumped into that day—and he seemed to know everyone in Wayland—he embodied the idea of the library as town common. If a municipal institution can have a father figure, Perry was ours. We will miss him for a long time to come.

Topics will include The Global Supply, Cuba After Castro, and Human Rights. On September 23, the discussion will be about the Global Food Supply. Global prices for food staples have risen dramatically, resulting in protests and unrest around the world. What factors are driving prices up, and can they be tamed? What will the political fallout be for governments that fail to act, and what role can global institutions play? All discussions take place at 9:15a.m. in the Raytheon Room.

The library will be closed over the Labor Day weekend: September 5-7. Our regular weekend hours (Saturdays 10-5 and Sundays 2-5) will resume on Saturday, September 12.

November 12
7:30 p.m. - 9:00 p.m.

As part of our Great Presenters Series, Mike will share his experiences involving two weeks and 110 miles of trekking in the Canadian North, between drop-off and pick-up—including hiking over tundra and on the ice cover, wild life, weather conditions and arctic mirages. Since retiring, Mike has led an adventurous life—climbing Mt. Kilimanjaro, climbing in Ecuador and France, canoeing down the Soper River on Baffin Island, trekking in the northern Yukon and across Ellesmere Island (less than 500 miles from the North Pole). Less arduously, he has walked across England along Hadrian's Wall.

Writing on the Wall by Screenwriter John Michalczyk

About a week after the 20th anniversary of the fall of the Berlin Wall, Wayland resident John Michalczyk will screen the latest of his conflict resolution films, Writing on the Wall: Remembering the Berlin Wall, at the library on Tuesday, November 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the Raytheon Room. The film was created by a talent team that included his wife, Susan A. Michalczyk, as scriptwriter and son, John Michalczyk III, as Production Assistant in Berlin. The Berlin Wall held both real and metaphorical meanings, its presence physically dividing East and West Berlin, while symbolically representing Communist oppression. The film, shot on location in Berlin, captures the personal narratives of both leaders and citizens in the political power struggle. Through interviews with those who lived through these challenging times of the Cold War, the film focuses on remembrance and reassessment.

Patterson on the Canadian Arctic

The next speaker in our "Great Presenters" Series will be Mike Patterson with the program, "Devon Island in the Canadian Arctic" on November 12, at 7:30 p.m. Mike will share his experience involving a 110-mile trek on Devon Island in the Canadian Arctic. Devon, 74 degrees north latitude, is the world's largest uninhabited island. After being flown in, dropped off, and on their own for two weeks, he and his small group were picked up at a far distant location. His photographs provide views of the stunning arctic scenery including icebergs, tundra, an ice-cap, arctic mirages, glaciers, and encounters with arctic wolves, polar bear, musk ox, arctic fox, and the little lemmings.

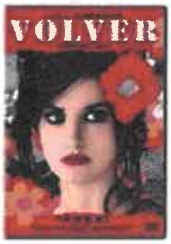
Foreign Film Series



The next film in our Foreign Film Series will be "Volver" by Spanish director Pedro Almodóvar on Monday, November 16, starting at 6:30 p.m. Raimunda and Sole are sisters. Years ago, in their birth village, they lost their parents in a fire in La Mancha. Their aunt, Paula, still lives in the village and continues to speak about her sister Irene, mother of the two sisters, as if she were still alive. When the old aunt dies, the situation changes and the past returns ("volver").

The library now offers you a new way to download audiobooks and eBooks to your home computer and transfer them to a portable device through OverDrive. We are excited to announce this service as a new way to enjoy your library at home or on the go. You can download best-selling novels, well-known classics, self-improvement guides, and more. Visit waylandlibrary.org to install the free software, browse the collection, and add titles to your cart. Art by Alice Shafer

Alice Shafer will exhibit an eclectic array of mixed media paintings and photography in the Raytheon Room starting in November. Shafer states that extensive international travel has shaped her world view. She is particularly interested in capturing candid moments, the beauty of natural light on the landscape, the joys of childhood, and the interactions of people with their animals. Her work has been exhibited at many juried shows in the past few years. The public is invited to an artist's reception on Sunday, November 15, at 2:00 p.m. in the Raytheon Room.

Drobnis Exhibit

Photographers Murray and Trudy Drobnis are returning to the Wayland Library with an exhibit of their photographs for the thirteenth year. Many of their photographs grace the wall of private homes throughout the Metrowest area.

WHERE ARE THE NEW BOOKS? JUST LOOK 'ROUND

For the latest and greatest, head for the Round Room, the rotunda on your right as you enter the Adult section of the library. (That's also where we keep the DVDs.) New Fiction's on your left, Mystery and Science Fiction on your right. In between is New Non-Fiction, shelved in call-number order, lowest to highest, left to right. With the display section on the tables, that's nearly every book we've bought in the last eight or nine months. Got it? Good. There will now be a short quiz.

Extra! Sweet new reads on the Circ Desk racks—what we call the Candy Counter!

Honoring Our Veterans

The Lower Lobby Display Case will feature information about Wayland veterans who served during war time. The information for the exhibit comes from the commemorative book that is available for inspection in the adult section of the library. John Turchinetz and Jim Burkley (with the help of Alfred Berry) have put together this display.

TV AT THE LIBRARY

No, you can't watch it here, but you can take home some of your favorite series on DVD. You'll find Inspectors Alleyn, Foyle, Lynley, and Morse, Hercule Poirot, Miss Marple, MI-5, and Wire in the Blood, as well as great dramas such as Upstairs Downstairs, The L Word, Lost, The Wire, The West Wing and, of course, The Sopranos and Sex in the City. Laughs? Look for Curb Your Enthusiasm, Extras, Entourage, 30 Rock, both Offices and the complete Monty Python. And if you want to introduce a younger generation to some classics, we've got Get Smart, The Andy Griffith Show, I Love Lucy, The Wild, Wild West, Rocky and Bullwinkle, and George of the Jungle (and we're still trying to get our hands on a collection of Top Cat). All this and more! Just head to the right side of the Round Room in the adult library and look for the purple spine labels. Then stock up for the weekend!

Poetry Workshop

The next meeting of the Wayland Poetry workshop will be on Wednesday, November 18 from 12 at 2 p.m.

GREAT DECISIONS Friday, November 20 12:15 a.m.

The topic will be human rights. Do human rights transcend national borders and customs? Is the definition of human rights changing?

Evening Book Group— The Missing World

What if, by a stroke of fortune, you could start afresh, could wipe away that catastrophic blunder in your past? And to what lengths would you go to establish that in fact you'd done nothing wrong at all? That's the premise of the next selection for the Evening Book Group, Margot Livesey's The Missing World. After an accident robs Hazel of three years' worth of memory, Jonathan is determined to keep her from learning of the betrayal that had driven her to leave him. Complications, to say the least, arise. Wise and witty, this "masterfully written psychological study" (Booklist) explores the quest for love and truth in a manner both compelling and, ultimately, revealing about our imperfect lives. Join the discussion on Wednesday, December 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the Raytheon Room. Copies of the book are available at the Library.

Great Presenter's Series
Local Author Nancy Poydar on Writing Children's Books
Thursday, December 3, 7:30-9:00 p.m.

Nancy will share how she broke into the competitive children's book field as a writer and illustrator. Her numerous titles include 14 picture books. She will share the process of book making with samples of each stage culled from her work.

"THE VALET"
(La Doublure)

Foreign Film Series
Thursday, December 17
7:00 - 9:00 PM

When an important CEO is photographed with his lover Elena, he tries to save his marriage by creating an elaborate scheme that she is someone else's lover. When his wife finds out the truth, she decides to play games with him.

Foyer Exhibit

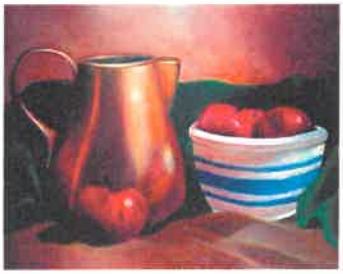
Michael Milburn will display his watercolor paintings in the Foyer for the month of December. Michael's paintings are filled with colorful koi, cranes, and bamboo. Complementing his watercolor painting, a central aspect of his calligraphy study has been haiku, a Japanese poetic form in three short lines. He built a Japanese-style garden, using bamboo, plum and cherry trees, and wisteria to create a tranquil place of refuge, where he enjoys painting.

WHAT'S HAPPENING TO ALL THE VIDEOTAPES?

They're getting withdrawn from the collection, that's what. Yanked, axed, eighty-sixed and out the door, adios amigos. When's the last time you watched one? They hardly ever circulate. It's a DVD world now, even if DVDs stutter and stammer and fall apart if you just look at them funny. But take heart—we'll keep a few of the really popular ones, we'll replace a lot of the others with DVDs, and we're not getting rid of anything that isn't owned by someone else in the Minuteman Library Network. What's more, the old ones are on sale on the table downstairs for a mere two bucks. So if your VCR still works, you can stock up on your favorites. Now you just have to figure out where to put all your old eight-tracks.

Raytheon Room Exhibit

Arts Wayland members will be exhibiting their artwork in a variety of media, through the month of December. A reception open to the public will be held on December 5 from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. Non-members may participate by signing up for membership when bringing a piece of artwork to the library on December 1, from 3:00 to 8:00 p.m.



UNUSUALLY HELPFUL BOOKMARKS

They don't just hold the place in your book, they tell you what book to read. Look on the rack above the Express Books, right across from the Circulation Desk. Each bookmark has a list of titles for such categories as Time Travel Romance, Detecting Dames, Political Thrillers, Cat Capers, Culinary Crimes, Literary Fiction, Stories of Asia, Survival, and a whole series of suggestions for When You've Read All of (Author's Name), said authors including Patricia Cornwell, Stephen King, John Grisham, James Patterson, and Nora Roberts (although Nora Roberts is so prolific, it's hard to imagine reading all of her). Pick up a few and discover all the new places to leave your mark.
